

national health insurance: green paper - introduction of a two-tiered financing health care system - with proportionately more resources serving a minority. The public sector is under-resourced and has to serve a large majority of the population. The system is inequitable: all must benefit from national health insurance. To successfully implement national health insurance there is a need to completely transform the health system.

Related PDFs :

Abc Def

Sitemap | Best Seller | Home | Random | Popular | Top